Pearline is a great Blessing
to the Woman, mistress or servant, who wants to keep things clean. It washes clothes, dishes, glassware; cleans paint, varnish, carpets, oil-cloth, floors, better than anything known, that is harmless to fabric or hands. It makes a saving of clothes and time that pays. Think of the guarantee we give you of its merits. Fifteen millions of packages are consumed annually. Think of your clothes and hands after a day of rubbing the dirt out on a washboard. (Pearline does away with that.) Think of the ease of washing clothes by the modern labor-saving method, which you will find on every package of Pearline. Think of the perfect cleanliness insured by the use of Pearline and you'll surely become a friend to Pearline. Certainly Pearline will be a true friend to you if you'll let it. Beware of the many imitations sold by means of prizes or peddling. There is only one Pearline and that is manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York. 3eM Everywhere.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

—OF—

EDWIN C. BURLEIGH

—TO THE—

Legislature of the State of Maine,

January 8, 1889.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Two years ago Joseph R. Bodwell stood in this place. He had been elected Governor of Maine not only by the large majority of votes which his party represented, but with the good will of his political opponents as an honest representative of the State. He was in the full vigor of life and a well-made man, and appearances otherwise gave promise of long service. He was universally liked. He still is universally liked, and lasting remembrance by the people of Maine.

But the State lives though men may die. Nehemiah J. Abbott, President of the Senate, immediately succeeded to the executive chair and faithfully and honorably administered the State government for the remainder of the gubernatorial term.

Wealth.

The financial condition of the State is one which will well repay a further notice of the items. The details will be presented to you in the report of the Commissioner of the Treasury which will soon be laid before you.

Under the act of 1887 which was finally abolished the taxing power, $1,100,000 of our State bonds included in that bond were cancelled and destroyed. This left a balance of the bonded debt to be paid, June 30th next and December first of the current year, $1,000,000. There is to be deducted the amount remaining in the Sinking Fund whose present value is $1,105,197.42. This amount is invested in United States bonds held in the State banks of Massachusetts and New Hampshire. In stating the real value it includes the premium at which these securities are now selling in the financial markets.

After this deduction is made there will remain but a balance of $3,000,000 of the State debt to be provided for. This State has assumed to be legally under the will of the late Governor Coburn to receive $250,000 for our public institutions, and to disburse the annual interest on the loan of four per cent. for ninety years. This sum of $250,000 has been invested for the purposes of the trust and bonds of the State bearing four per cent. interest have been purchased to the amount of $6,250,000 and deposited with the Treasurer of State. The interest is payable semi-annually to the trustees by Commissioner Coburn's executors. The principal is to be paid by the National Government in August, 1891. But as the bill has not yet become a law the State cannot reckon with certainty upon any amount from that source.

Should Congress not exchange the proposed three per cent. bonds for our outstanding three, following the settlement of accounts until maturity, you ready to buy whatever may be offered for sale. But as the bills are now framed there is no reason to doubt that the present condition of the money market, that makes our command of the money which it may desire to an interest of three per cent. per annum, will continue. Should the present legislature, by its action, so increase the public debt as to lower the credit of the State, the result would be disastrous. Maine bonds will command a comfortable premium. Our long established credit warrants the presumption that a Maine bond will sell at as high a rate as the bond of any State in the Union, especially when it is remembered that after the present debt is paid, the State is furnished by the Constitution to incur any debt in excess of three hundred thousand dollars, except to suppress insurrection, to repel invasion or for purposes of war."

The loan act passed by the last legislature needs, I think, to be so far amended as to furnish the treasury with the means of the payment of the interest coupons on the debt of the new bonds issued in lieu of those rightly outstanding in the hands of the people. This permission should possibly be limited to the sum paid in any year by the several municipalities to the State and it may prove advisable to exempt the assessment of the same from taxation.

With the sole thing of the debt accomplished as we may very confidently with the support of our natural interest amount of $1,000,000 annum, and if the amount was should be reduced by the ordinary appropriations, we may safely hope to see the debt so low as $2,000,000 per annum. The effect of this reduction on the treasury may be estimated when it is remembered that the annual interest upon the present debt is $300,000 a year more, in round numbers, than the sum which will be required when the debt is reduced to $2,000,000. The State has paid during the past year $300,000 per annum. How much better this statement appears when the debt of the State is reduced to $2,000,000 and the interest upon the same to $120,000 per annum. Nor is this all. The State has assumed to pay the annual income from the trust fund

Gov. Burleigh's Address

We place before the readers of THE WHIG this morning the full text of Gov. Burleigh's inaugural address to the members of the Maine Legislature. It is an admirable document, and will be read with much interest. It is a business paper from beginning to end, being concise, well arranged, and direct to the point. This message ably makes it comparatively a brief document, a strong point in its favor. After a fitting reference to the memory of the late Mr. Burleigh discusses the finances of the State as a matter of first importance. The showing is one that will be smoothly satisfactory to the taxpayers. The debt of the State now amounts to $3,700,000, which may be reduced at once to the amount of the trust under the will of the late Gov. Coburn, subject to still further reduction if $71,782 which the Direct Tax Refund Act will allow. With the refunding of the debt completed Gov. Burleigh holds the amount of the annual interest [illegible] and if the National [illegible] refunds the direct tax money [illegible] the total extinction for [illegible] thinks may safely be reduced [illegible] annual [illegible] $117,000. Some millions [illegible] this would leave but [illegible] millions as the rate of tax [illegible] general purposes of government [illegible] the lowest for thirty [illegible] and [illegible] rate based for [illegible] year.

[illegible] upon this legislature [illegible] the [illegible] the State and the Governor [illegible] the [illegible] valuation [illegible] for the [illegible] Gov. Burleigh [illegible] the [illegible] Executive Council [illegible]

The United States Senator

[illegible] the Democrats [illegible] of the Legislature [illegible] Wednesday night [illegible] in the House of Representatives [illegible] Hon. Eugene Hale [illegible] Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., [illegible] Hon. Joseph H. Manley [illegible] Hon. Thomas B. Reed [illegible] Hon. Seth L. Larrabee [illegible] Hon. Charles A. Boutelle [illegible] Hon. Frederick Robie [illegible] Hon. Joseph W. Symonds [illegible] Hon. Lucilius A. Emery [illegible] Hon. Edward [illegible] Hon. Charles A. Boutelle [illegible] Hon. Frederick Robie [illegible] Hon. State Officers

The State officers [illegible] by the Legislature [illegible] Wednesday evening [illegible] in joint convention in the House of Representatives were elected [illegible] the most important [illegible] Hon. Nelson [illegible] Secretary of State [illegible] Hon. Lorenzo [illegible] Secretary [illegible] and Adjutant General [illegible] Sprague [illegible] necessarily be gratifying to the several gentlemen named [illegible] having a clear field in the canvass. The only ballot taken was for the Attorney General, for which office there has been a spirited but friendly contest between F. A. Powers, Esq. of Houlton, and Geo. F. Littlefield, of Rockland resulting in the election of the latter. Mr. Powers has reason to be gratified at the hearty support of the members from the Fourth District. His defeat appears to be due to the loss of expected support in Hancock, Kennebec, Cumberland and Oxford Counties which were swung strongly to Mr. Littlefield at the last moment. While we favored the election of Mr. Powers and should have been much pleased to have seen him in the office of Attorney General, for which he is so well fitted we have only kind words for Mr. Littlefield who is one of the most prominent young lawyers of the State and who will make a worthy successor to the long line of eminent gentlemen that have filled this office in the past.

They Want Boodle.

It is interesting to note that the Democratic leaders are already preparing for the organization of a system to collect boodle to be used in the next campaign. They had ample on immense corruption fund for use in the last canvass, but boodle could not elect a free trade President. If they keep up the same system of squeezing for the entire three years that they practiced last summer they will have boodle enough to run three or four campaigns, but will find in 1892 as they did in 1888 that the Presidency is not for sale. Just at a time when the Democratic papers are having so much to say about money used in elections this determination of the Democratic party managers to open a boodle bureau three years in advance of the next contest is decidedly amusing.

A Well Merited Sentence.

The sentence imposed upon the two tramps by Judge Whitehouse in the Augusta superior Court Thursday, will meet with general public approval. Those men were convicted of a most brutal assault upon a Winthrop farmer for the purpose of robbery. After beating him down they continued to rain blows upon him with a hay knife until he ceased all struggles and then they left him for dead in the barn. The men were apprehended, a special session of the Grand Jury was called, an indictment returned, conviction secured and the men sentenced to the State Prison for life within just a week from the time of the assault. The prompt vindication of justice in this case will have a salutary effect upon the class of dangerous individuals who roam about the country ready to do murder if necessary to secure their booty.

In the case of John T. Butler, Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has, on this thirty-first day of December, A. D. 1888, been presented to said Court for said County by John T. Dudley, of Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts, provable under the provisions of chapter seventy of Revised Statutes of the State of Maine and the amendments thereof, and upon said petition it is Ordered by said Court that a hearing be had in the same before said Court, at the Probate Court Room in Bangor, in said County of Penobscot, on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of January, A. D. 1889, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, a newspaper published in said County of Penobscot, once a week for two successive weeks, the last publication to be three days at least before the day of hearing, and that all creditors who have proved their debts and other persons interested may appear at said place and time and show cause, if any they have, why a discharge should not be granted and [illegible] to the prayer of his petition.

Attest: ALBERT W. PAINE,

Register of said Court for said County of Penobscot.

About Furs.

Owing to limited room it is almost impossible for us to store away Furs left over from one season to another. For this reason we always make it a point to close entire stock before the close of a season. Realizing that our present stock of Furs is large for this time of year, we shall Offer same to Customers at Prices which will insure Quick Sales.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 3, 1888.

Learning, accidentally, that you were thinking of publishing a book relative to the nature and work of Compound Oxygen, I beg you will allow me the privilege of saying a word in its favor. Its value as a promoter of proper, healthful tonic action, and consequent increase of nerve power, must be apparent to any one who will scientifically consider the treatment. As one who has made an especial study of voice culture, I would seriously recommend the use of Compound Oxygen to all students of the same, it has, in several other ways, been of inestimable benefit to me, and I would be very glad to confer personally with any one who may care to know more particularly of the matter. Very truly yours,

LOTTIE E. SIMONS,

DEAR SIRS: I have experienced very pleasant and beneficial results from the use of your Company's "Compound Oxygen." I have not had space to test it for curing the [illegible] have never found it fail to relieve instantly and remove speedily the "cobwebs" so common in our climate. I believe it to be a valuable substitute for the nostrums that so frequently cause great evils in removing lesser ones.

Very respectfully yours,

Mr Reed Chairman the previous question which called forth a vigorous protest from Mr Anderson of Kansas

Mr Reed declined to accede to a request for a two hours debate, on the ground that he had been instructed by the committee to demand the previous question A yea and nay vote on the previous question showed no quorum 154 in the affirmative and 28 in the negative Mr Randall voting with the minority A call of the House was ordered

The call showed the presence of 171 members 4 more than a quorum, but the margin was too narrow and proceedings under the call were not suspended

The sergeant at Arms was dispatched to hunt up and arrest absentees, and the House drowsily awaited his report This not forthcoming by 2 30 Mr Anderson, of Illinois moved an adjournment, defeated, 33 to 107

Mr Randall moved to suspend further proceedings under the call, defeated 33 to 97

Mr Randall then suggested to Mr Reed that as the resolution was a privileged one and could be called up any time he withdraw it until to morrow and allow the House to proceed to-day to the consideration of the River and Harbor Appropriation bill

This Mr Reed refused unless he could receive the assurance that there would be no filibustering against the resolution to-morrow

The assurance was not forthcoming and the suggestion ended in naught and at 3 40 the House on motion of Mr Breckinridge of Kentucky adjourned
